DEMOCRATIC COUNTY PRIMARIES VESTERDAY WERE TAME.

The Better Class of Democrats Held Aloof and Let the Police Commissioners and Heelers Run Things.

The gang had it all its own way at the Democratic primaries held yesterday to elect delegates to the county convention which will meet at Turner hall to-morrow to choose delegates to the state convention at Springfield. So apathetic was the election that the great majority of the better element in the party did not know that any election was being held. The police board was allied with the Shannor gang, and the cut and dried programme was carried out without protest, except in the Eighth and Tenth wards, where the anti-gang delegations, headed by Senator O. G. Young and Mack Evans, respecttively, were beaten by votes of 237 to 42, and 120 to 80.

About 1,000 votes were polled, the four heaviest wards casting votes as follows: Third, 142; Eighth, 279; Ninth, 154; Tenth, 200. The other wards cast the following votes: First, 15; Second, 22; Fourth, 55; Fifth, 60; Sixth, 79; Seventh, 94; Eleventh, 28; Tweifth, 40; Thirteenth, 20; Fourteenth, 15

Police Commissioners Ward and Gregory were elected delegates, and the convention will show the usual gang crowd, headed by Joe Shannon, Mike Ross, Frank Walsh, Cass Welsh and the Caseys, Lynchs, O'Flahertys and Dugans. The following are the delegates chosen:

The few Democrats of the better class who take enough interest in the matter are lcud in their denunciation of the usual gang methods, especially in the two contesting wards. They declare that the gang officeholders flooded the polling places with deputy sheriffs, deputy marshals, deputy clerks and miscellaneous pluggers.

ALL IN MERCER'S INTEREST. Blue Township Democrats Consent to Not Inaugurate a War on the Governor.

Blue township Democrats held two mass meetings, one for the north and the other for the south side of the township, yester delegates to the Democratic county convention to be held at Turner hall. For a time it looked very much like the Stephens and anti-Stephens fight would crop out, but owing to strong pressure being brought to bear in the interest of J. W. Mercer, who is a candidate for warehouse commissioner, the trouble which was brewing was squelched. It was the intention to instruct the township delegation to work for the election of delegates to the state convention who were inlinical to the interests of the governor, but it was feared that if a fight was engaged in at the Turner hall convention it might injure Mr. Mercer's candidacy, and the anti-Stephens men consented to not inaugurate a war on the governor on condition that the governor's name be not mentioned in the convention. The delegates elected from the north side of Blue township were: Daniel Colyer, James F. Buchannan, Henry Vaughn, John O'Brien, Lem Mann, Ed Shoemaker, Reuben Shrout, J. J. Randall, J. Melvin Burnham, W. R. Wilson, S. H. Woodson. day afternoon, for the purpose of selecting From the South side the following delegates were chosen: Fleming Pendleton, Charles Kelley, M. L. Hall, John Lobb, James Russell, W. L. Cunringham, Sater Necessary, Z. T. Sheiton, Nicholas Phelps, William Clark, W. L. Bryant.

THIN POLITICAL YARN.

Story That City Treasurer Harrison Is to Be Prosecuted for Ante-

Election Promises.

A thin story is going the rounds that Fred E. Schooley, a discharged clerk in the office of Treasurer Harrison, is working up a suit to oust Mr. Harrison for violation of the corrupt practices act in promising positions during the last city campaign. Mr. Harrison does not dignify the matter by denouncing it. He said yesterday that Schooley had been discharged by him for incompetency and was taking his revenge. "I did not make any promises during the campaign," said Mr. Harrison. "I did not campaign," said Mr. Harrison. "I did not have to."

Nobody believes that Mr. Harrison made any promises that would place his office in danger of being turned over to the defeated Democratic candidate and the story was generally laughed at at the city hall vesterday. yesterday.

The attorneys whom Schooley was said to have consulted said yesterday that they had not been retained and did not contemplate any proceedings against Mr. Harrison

DEATH OF FAITHFUL "QUEEN." Dapple Gray Mare That for Fifteen Years Drew a Hearse Is

No More. There is sorrow in the hearts of the hostiers of a certain livery stable on Grand avenue, and the employes of Wagner's undertaking establishment are in genuine mourning to-day, for "Queen" died yesterday. The hostlers say that "Queen" was as trig a little mare as ever drew a hearse over the streets of Kansas City. She was a handsome animal, a dapple gray, and when she first came into the possession of Wagner, the undertaker, the men who are up in horseflesh were high in their praises of her fine points. That was fifteen years ago, and during all the days since then "Queen" performed her duties as a servant in the solemn business of her owner with a faithfulness that entitles her to lasting memory.

In her years service "Queen" had hauled to the different cemeteries the bodies of nearly 3,000 dead people. After she became an undertaker's horse her owners had the contract for burying the city's dead and moving the sick and injured to the city and other hospitals, and it is reached the course is thousand of these terday. The hostlers say that "Queen" the city and other hospitals, and it is probable that over six thousand of these people have ridden behind the faithful probable that over six thousand of these people have ridden behind the faithful "Queen."

For months before her death she had shown the unmistakable symptoms of advancing age. Rheumatism attacked her and she was left in the stable while the hostlers did everything they could think of to bring her back to health. Her malady grew worse and she was taken to the hospital of the Kansas City Veterinary college. There she died.

"Dolly" was another little dapple gray, the perfect mate to "Queen," and the twain always harnessed together. It mattered not to these faithful animals how cold the winter's night might be or how late the hour they were ordered out to the home of sickness or death, they were never fractious and it was in consideration of this quality, as well as their long service, that their owner decided some time ago to pension them. "Dolly" had been sent into the country, but "Queen's" sickness prevented her going and maybe now "Dolly" is gazing between the fence rails of her clover pasture down the long country road for the comment of ver pasture down the long country roa for the coming of the compa who will never more romp at her side

JUST A CASE OF HARD LUCK.

J. A. Merrifield Held for Investigation Because He Could Not Pay His Hotel Bill.

"If I had a gun I'd blow my brains out!" remarked J. A. Merrifield, of St. Louis, last evening to Lieutenant Weber as he was being searched at the Central police station. Merrifield claims to be a traveling dealer in novelties and to have at one time held a responsible position with the Chicago Brakebeam Company. He arrived here last Tuesday, without baggage, and registered at the Coates hotel as A. C. Newton. Last evening, being suspicious of him, Clerk Menkin asked him for a settlement of his accounts. Merrifield admitted that he was short of funds, but that Judge Krueger would guarantee the account. Accompanied by Menkin and Head Porter Leach, Merrifield called on the judge and he, although not knowing him well, agreed to become security for his bill for one day. The party then left to return to the hotel, but when at the corner of Fifth and Broadway Merrifield ran away, with Menkin and Leach in hot pursuit. A hue and cry was raised and a hundred or more people joined in the chase. After a run of three blocks the hotel men captured their victim and turned him over to the police.

Merrifield appeared to feel his position keenly and it is evidently the case of a good man pursued by ill luck. Among his effects were a small amount of money, a baggage check, and papers which disclosed his identity and calling. was being searched at the Central police station. #### THEY ALL LAUGHED LAST. An Epworth League Entertainment That Created a Great Deal of Merriment. A "He-Who-Laughs-Last" social was given at the residence of Rev. Mr. Charles M. Hawkins, 2442 Forest avenue, last night by the young people of the Epworth League of the Troost Avenue M. E. church. Light of the Troost Avenue M. E. church. Light refreshments were served, the rooms were beautifully decorated with ox-eyed daisies and an extemporaneous literary and musical programme was rendered. But the fun of the evening was in the distinctive exercises from which the occasion got its name. Lists of conundrums were distributed among the guests and the questions alone caused much merriment, but the "who-laughs-last" part came in when the answers were read. The variety of the answers was only exceeded by their ingeniousness. Here are some:

Q. "What éld Jack Frost say to the rose when he proposed?"

ANOTHER CLOSE SHAVE

DEADLOCK ON APPORTIONMENT WAS NEARLY BROKEN.

Technical Parliamentary Ruling by Speaker Burrows Prevented a Vote Which Would Have Broken the Deadlock.

A technical parliamentary ruling by Speaker Burrows last night prevented the apportionment deadlock from being broken. Mr. Jewell, who has been voting against receding from the lower house amendments, was absent and it was hoped that the seven remaining Republicans would be able to carry a motion to recede over the six Democrats. The ordinance vas in the upper house budget with the notice that the lower house had refused notice that the lower bouse had refused to recede. An effort was made to have the ordinance sent back to the lower house and Mr. Brinkley offered a resolution to that effect. But Speaker Burrows ruled that as the resolution was not in the budget it could not be acted upon at a special meeting.

It is probable that there will be another meeting of the council to-night to act on the matter.

It is probable that there will be another meeting of the council to-night to act on the matter.

The upper house passed the ordinance requiring circuses to pay a license of $250 for the first day, $150 for each succeeding day; sideshows $10 per day and Wild West shows $100 per day.

The ordinance establishing Missouri boulevard was passed and the ordinance to open Admiral evenue was referred to the streets, alleys and grades committee.

Ordinances were passed to pave Troost avenue from Fifth to Pacific and Vine from Eleventh to Twelfth. Ordinances were referred to the public improvements committee to pave Baltimore from the Southwest boulevard to Milwaukee avenue, Roberts from Walrond to Indiana and Walnut from Twenty-ninth to Thirty-first and Penn from Eighteenth to Twentieth.

The lower house passed ordinances to repeal the ordinance to open Grove from Eighteenth to Twenty-second and to pave Vine from Eleventh to Twelfth and Troost from Fifth to Pacific.
